M3 Event Management Team Planning "2019 Driving Towards the Future Conference"

The M3 team is racing down the road (no speeding tickets allowed) in planning for a one-day conference to be held at the Incrediplex, 6002 Sunnyside Rd, Indianapolis, Indiana (Eastside, Lawrence area), from 7 am– 7 pm with a target date on Friday, October 4, 2019.

The Incrediplex can hold up to 10,000 people, we can have 200 exhibit lanes, 42 rotating workshop pit stops, and six panel presentations. Main topics include: Information Technology, Organizational Change and Development, Talent and Diversity along with Investor Management.

The team has only been planning for a few weeks but the excitement keeps building and we're meeting with CEOs of local companies to bring an exciting panel line-ups. There seems to be a thirst for more knowledge, and bringing this knowledge together in a one-day conference for everyone makes sense from a management consulting perspective.

If you're interest in participating then please contact Michelle K. Miller, Founder, CEO at mmiller@m3ultimatesolutions.com, to schedule a meeting.

What is a Strategic Partner?

M3 utilizes strategic partners who have strong and valid relationships with potential clients within the business development life-cycle, which results in an extension of the relationship to adequately SCOPE and SCALE statements of work (SOWs) that SOLVE issues by providing consulting management, staffing and/or other services.

We encourage clients to contact an approved strategic partner with whom they have a relationship to initiate conversations for services. For a full list of strategic partners, click here.

Client Communication Connection

M3 teams up with Mr. Lee Cockerell "Creating Magic" Lessons in Leadership Management & Customer Service Seminar in Indy.

Happy Thanksgiving Holiday (USA) November 22-23, 2018 (office closed) Messages from M3 C-Suite!

Michelle (CEO): Thankful for support from clients, partners, investors, community, friends and family as M3 embarks on it's second year in business.

Rick (CIO/CFO): Although this is time for family, we're thankful and blessed for you, our clients and partners who have become our business family.

Dennis (CPO): Saying thank you is easy, and we should say it more often but sometimes we need a little reminder. Thanksgiving reminds us to cherish the people who were good to us and supported us. This Thanksgiving, we've got nothing but thanks for you in our minds and hearts for the relationships we have with our clients, partners and consultants.
